AN EYEGLASS VIEW OF THE LOCUST PLAGUE.

"Cheerful Words for Western Farmers—How the Ravages of the Locust May be Diminished—Hopes of Its Final Extirpation—Report of the Entomological Commission."

These striking head-lines in the New York Tribune of the 23d instant caused the big green eyes of the GAZETTE's agricultural editor to dilate with sudden joy as he unexpectedly came upon a long grasshopper article in the columns of that esteemed though ponderous and diffuse contemporary. Such headlines at once called up visions of ranchers dancing with delight over the meadows on receipt of the Tribune's glad tidings. But a perusal of the article dispelled the hope to which its too-optimistic title had given rise. It was based upon the second report of the United States Entomological Commission, soon to be ready for distribution, and which relates to the Rocky Mountain locust and the Western cricket. Now the Rocky Mountain locust, so far as we know, is the same, or nearly the same, as the Sierra Nevada locust. Hence the natural laws governing the multiplication and the destructiveness of the Nebraska locust should apply to the locust of Nevada and the valleys of the Sierra. But it is a disappointment to find that the Commission rely upon the settlement of the locust-infested regions as the great means of overcoming the plague.

The idea of crowding out the locust by the settlement of the region which it devastates has some rather ludicrous features. How it can be cheering to the "western farmers," already on the ground, is difficult to understand. Posterity may profit by the filling up of the country and the possible ostracism of the locust, but how are the pioneers to fare who are to wage war against the insect? What is one man against a million locusts? What the farmers who suffer from locust depredations would like to learn is some way or means of putting a stop to the plague of locusts now. The assurance that when the country gets settled up the locust will find no place to lay its head is small consolation to the farmers who yearly see the larger portion of their crops eaten up before their eyes. We have little faith in this theory of the Commission that increase of population will crowd out the locust. There must always be left, in every section of this western country, vast areas of land incapable of cultivation, and on such land the locust can breed at its leisure. And it has not been observed in this section that the insect cannot find congenial breeding places on cultivated lands. They have laid their eggs all over this valley, throughout all the ranches, preferring, of course, the dry, sandy knolls. Unless the whole country be put under water and kept under water, we do not see how the resident locusts and the migrating locusts can be prevented from putting in their eggs where they see fit. And that will naturally be on cultivated land where their young find plenty to eat when they creep out of the ground in the warm days of spring. No, the locust will not be crowded out by man; not in this generation, nor the next, nor in many more to come. What hope is there then of its extinction?

For the suppression of the locust plague, we rely mainly upon natural agencies. The locust of this region is becoming the prey of numerous parasites. It is pursued by flies which lay their eggs in its body. Red mites breed upon it and eat up its substance. Digger wasps sting it to death and bury it as food for their young. More insects than we can name make game of the grasshopper. Through their agency the grasshopper seems to be already nearly exterminated in Sierra valley. Each year its enemies are multiplying. Nature never intended the vegetable kingdom, and nature will set enough foes upon it to put the intrusive and voracious insect back into its natural insignificant place in the insect world.

One of the most noteworthy recommendations of the report of the Commission is that a permanent system of observations and warnings of the flights of the locust be instituted by the Signal Bureau.

"No one," it says, "would question the value of daily bulletins such as the Signal Bureau might publish, with the increased power we have indicated, as to the movements and flights of destructive swarms. We therefore strongly recommend an appropriation to the Signal Bureau for this special purpose."

Thus the farmer in the locust-ridden regions may ride into town every day to get the latest locust news, if he happens to live anywhere in the neighborhood of a Signal Service station, which, however, are usually not more than 500 miles apart. It might happen, though, that the locusts would outstrip the news. Special stations for the observation of locust flights should be established. One station to every square mile would no doubt be sufficient. Diligent observers so situated would probably see most of the large flocks passing through the air, and would be able to guess with tolerable accuracy the direction of their flight. How would it do to have cannon planted on the observatories, and shell the swarms as opportunity might offer?

EDITORIAL NOTES.

A Paris correspondent of a New York paper says: "Mrs. J. W. Mackay gave in Paris, the other evening, the most magnificent ball of the season. For the dancing she furnished not only the best band to be had, but a group of singers who sang the waltzes, giving a marvelous spirit of fascination to the dance." This reminds the Enterprise of a famous Iowa whistler who used to whistle dance music for parties at $3 a night, and whose services were much in demand.

The people of Virginia City are not going to eat any oleomargarine if they can help it. An ordinance has been passed forbidding anyone to sell the compound, and forbidding hotel and restaurant keepers to serve it to their customers—unless it is sold or served for what it is and not for butter. The penalty is a fine of not less than $100, of which the informer is to receive one-half.

The C. P. Blood Horse association have decided that the purse for the coming great race of four-mile heats shall be $20,000; $12,000 to the first, $4,000 to the second, $2,500 to the third, and $1,500 to the fourth. The best horses in the country are likely to compete in the race, and efforts will be made to get in horses from Australia. The race will take place in May.

A prominent broker recently testified before a Committee of the New York Assembly that he had visited a number of oleomargarine factories and found oleomargarine butter made from peanut lard and also oils, alum and acids. In some factories the employees were exceedingly filthy, some working half naked and others only wearing a bag about the loins.

A "fast train" has been defined by the Supreme Court of Illinois as a train going at more than eight miles an hour. What then would the legal definition of a slow train be?

LAW OF THE STATE OF NEVADA

Passed by the Tenth Session of the Legislature, 1881.

CHAP. XXXV.—An Act amendatory of an Act entitled "An Act in relation to public highways," approved March 15, 1875.

[Approved February 23, 1881.]

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section Four of an Act entitled "An Act in relation to public highways," is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

"Section Four. It shall be the duty of each Road Supervisor faithfully to collect all road taxes lawfully imposed and required to be paid, and judiciously and economically to expend the same, together with all other moneys belonging to the Road Fund of his district, or such part thereof as in his judgment may be required, upon the public highways of his district; to superintend all labor upon such highways, and to see that the same is faithfully performed; provided, that no Road Supervisor shall be permitted to perform labor upon the highways of his district in excess of the sum of fifty dollars during any one quarter, except upon the advice and with the consent of the County Commissioners of his county, previously obtained. The Supervisor of each district shall, on the first Monday of January and the first Monday in July of each year, file with the County Clerk of his county a list of the names of all persons who have been residents thereof thirty days, designating those who have paid poll taxes, and at the same time and place shall file a full and concise statement of all labor performed, including his own, and all moneys received and paid out. Any surplus of money remaining after payment of all road dues, not including his own wages, he shall pay over to the County Treasurer of his county and take his receipt therefor. The County Treasurer shall place the same to the credit of the Road Fund to be used for the benefit of such road district, which said Road Fund the several Boards of County Commissioners of this State are hereby authorized and directed to create and maintain; provided, such fund may not be created in any county which has not or shall not have any road district."

CHAP. XXXVI.—An Act to amend an Act entitled "An Act to secure liens to mechanics and others, and to repeal all other Acts in relation thereto," approved March 5, 1875.

[Approved February 23, 1881.]

The people of the State of Nevada, represented in Senate and Assembly, do enact as follows:

SECTION 1. Section One of an Act entitled "An Act to secure liens to mechanics and others, and to repeal all other Acts in relation thereto," approved March 5, 1875, is hereby amended so as to read as follows:

Section One. Every person performing labor upon, or furnishing material of the value of five (5) dollars or more, to be used in the construction, alteration or repair of any building or other superstructure, railroad, tramway, toll road, canal, water ditch, flume, aqueduct or reservoir, building, bridge, fence, or any other structure, has a lien upon the same for the work or labor done or material furnished by each, respectively, whether done or furnished at the instance of the owner of the building or other improvement, or his agent; and all miners, laborers and others who work or labor to the amount of five (5) dollars or more in or upon any mine, or upon any shaft, tunnel, adit, or other excavation, designed or used for the purpose of prospecting, draining or working any such mine; and all persons who shall furnish any timber or other material, of the value of five (5) dollars or more, to be used in or about any such mine, whether done or furnished at the instance of the owner of such mine or his agent, shall have, and may each respectively claim and hold, a lien upon such mine for the amount of the work or labor so performed, or material furnished; and every contractor, subcontractor, architect, builder, or other persons, having charge or control of any mining claim, or any part thereof, or of the construction, alteration or repair, either in whole or in part, of any building or other improvement, as aforesaid, shall be held to be the agent of the owner, for the purposes of this chapter.

Sec. 2. This Act shall take effect from and after its passage.

J. S. Sellers Drowned.

J. S. Sellers, the carpenter, was drowned in the river at Mayberry's this afternoon. He was at work with some other men in putting a new pier into the bridge. The pier was being floated down to its place, and Sellers, becoming entangled in a guiding rope, was dragged into the stream. He was seen struggling in the water for some time before he finally disappeared. Efforts are being made to recover the body.

Mr. Sellers leaves a wife and a family of four sons and a daughter. He was an old resident and a good, honest man, well-known throughout the county.

BRIDGEPORT BLARNEY.

A Chatty Letter From the Paris of Mono County.

BRIDGEPORT, Mono Co., Cal., March 25, 1881.

Ed. Gazette: In order to mislead my former friends I have changed my signature so it will read the same no matter which end they start at, or if that don't suit they can commence at the middle and spell both ways and they can tell just where to get their bread, if they don't—as I am now doing—eat hard tack. You see there is great economy in it, you don't have to wash your hands to mix bread, save soap and water, both to say nothing about the labor. Sure road to wealth.

After doing up the Sweetwater mines, which by the way will astonish the world at no distant day, I find myself anchored at Bridgeport, a beautiful place for a town, on the headwaters of East Walker river. All that hinders it from being a port of entry for sailing vessels is the low bridges. They don't have any draw in the bridges, having put it all in poker, of which there seems to be enough to supply a city like Reno.

Mono county is rich, and has made a commendable start in the way of a new $40,000 court-house. They celebrated the old court-house's funeral the other night in a spirited way. One gentleman, being called upon for some remarks, said: "I am not much of a speaker, and don't hold any office, but I can drink." He suited the act to the word, imbibed equal to the best speakers, and almost made a stand-off with some of the regular third-term office holders.

On inquiry as to what they did here in the winter, I was informed that they could not do anything except dance and sleigh ride. Everybody complains of the scarcity of money all over this country, and some are so wicked as to say that the only thing of which there is a surplus is editors and lawyers. One chap said both were as thick as fiddlers in a certain locality where people got their coal furnished free of charge. Almost anybody you meet has got the best mine in the State: all he needs is a little capital to open it. Inquire closely, and you will find the aforesaid has got locations all over the country, and would require a stiff bank account to keep up assessments work. Much of the ground has been held by them for years, and if you go to look at it, you can't tell where the work has been done, but if you talk about doing anything they will soar up into the thousands, and with their thumbs in the arm-holes of their vest will say they "really don't care to sell the control at that price." I am going to try to learn the trade. "They toil not neither do they spin" (except yarns) "and don't miss a meal." Some of the hotel-keepers put in the whole quotation.

YREKA BAKERY.

Haverly's to Play Here To-morrow Night.

Haverly's dramatic company arrived here last night from the east. Owing to detentions on the U. P., they have been obliged to postpone their engagement in Virginia. The company will perform here in the Nevada Theater to-morrow night, in the "Strategist." This is an unexpected treat. Haverly's is a first-class company, and will undoubtedly draw a crowded house.

The Omaha Republican says of this company: "The end of the third act caused almost a panic in the house. People leaned over their chairs, on their neighbors' shoulders, doubled up and laughed, yes roared, till many of them looked like so many candidates for apoplectic strokes. No such demonstration has been witnessed in the Academy."

Agriculture and Matrimony in Plumas.

SUMMIT, Plumas Co., Cal., March 26.

Ed. Gazette:—The weather is delightful and the ranchers are wide-awake, and have been plowing and sowing grain. They are fearful that the grasshoppers will wake up too, but are sowing more grain than usual. The ground is now in excellent condition for plowing and seeding. The prospects for a grass crop are good. There is an abundance of water for irrigation, grass is growing finely, and many cattle have been turned out on the ranges. There are no casualties to announce, but our neighborhood has been rejoicing over some marriages. Our old neighbor Bobe and Mrs. Fox, and, we have learned, also Richard Martin and Mrs. Austin, have committed matrimony.

CRIME IN LASSEN.

A Burglary in Janesville—A Brave Little Susanville Girl Shot While Resisting a Robber.

SUSANVILLE, March 28, 1881.

Ed. GAZETTE:—L. N. Breed's store at Janesville was entered last Saturday night by some one evidently acquainted with the premises. The entrance was made by taking out a piece of pasteboard that was used instead of a glass. The burglar put his arm through the hole, raised the foot bolt, and pulled the chain bolt down; then he pushed the doors open and helped himself to a large lot of jewelry, cigars, tobacco, clothing and flour, taking only the best of each article. A large pile of flour was pulled down, evidently in looking for something that was thought to be concealed in it, as a few days before a gentleman had left about $3,000 in the store. Mr. Bechtel, the clerk, says there had been a man hanging around the store for about a week. No estimate of the loss can be given, except three bullion chains and $2 in cash.

A little girl of Mrs. Malgin was shot in the foot last week by some one who entered the house with his face blacked, and tried to imitate an Indian in gestures and language. He asked where her mother was, and she answered, "Down in the garden." "Where is your father?" "He is down in the garden also." The would-be Indian said: "You lie; your mother has gone to Susanville and your father to the sheep camp. How long has Jack, the sheep-herder, worked, and has your father paid him? Where is the money he got for the sheep the other day?" She said her mother had paid it out. He then tried to go into a bedroom, when she fastened the door on him. "Well, then," said he, "I will throw the baby in the well." Then the little girl grabbed up the baby and ran into another room, the thief following her. He pulled out a pistol, saying at the same time: "G—d—n you; I will kill you anyway," and fired, the ball passing through her foot. A party are out after him. Whoever he was, he was evidently acquainted with the business of Malgin, as only a few days before Malgin sold a band of sheep, and had quite a lot of cash in the house in the room the robber tried to enter. The wound is not dangerous.

A Violent Assault.

Hot words passed between Samuel Brown and Newton Evans this afternoon in Evans' field, while disputing over conflicting proprietary claims. The talk was ended by Evans, who knocked Brown down, and struck him several times afterwards, according to report. Brown, it is said, was unable to make any resistance after the first blow. He is a confirmed invalid, and Evans is a large, powerful man. Evans is said to have had considerable provocation in insulting expressions used by Brown. Brown's nose is broken and both his eyes are closed. Dr. Bergman says his injuries may result in serious consequences.

A Good Time to Buy Stocks.

Says the Enterprise: "The present is a very good time for persons who think of going into stocks to take in their favorites. They are now undoubtedly as low as they will be seen in a long time. We know of nothing to send them any lower, and there are not a few mining events in the near future that are liable to cause them to advance. Those who do not get in by the 15th of next month will be obliged to pay higher figures than at present, and the accident of a day may send some stocks that are now very low booming out of reach of small dealers and dabblers."

Workingmen.

Before you begin your heavy spring work after a winter of relaxation, your system needs strengthening and cleansing to prevent an attack of Ague, Bilious or Spring Fever, or some other spring sickness that will wait you for a season's work. You will save time, much sickness and great expense if you will use one bottle of St. Peter's in your family this month. Don't wait. See another column.

JOTTINGS.

—E. A. Allen is selling imported cigars at two for two-bits.

—No person has ever been killed or seriously injured on the V. & T. railroad.

—Those beautiful Easter cards at Allen's are an attraction. They have great artistic merit.

—The weather now is as near perfection as any weather can be. It leaves nothing to be desired.

—Mr. Palmer's eleven-year-old daughter died yesterday of diphtheria. Funeral to-morrow at two o'clock.

—Charles Johnson and Miss Judkins were married yesterday, hard and fast. No mistake this time.

—Sacramento is fragrant with blooming roses. Benquets are sent up to Reno every day on the lightning.

—The overland passenger traffic has greatly lightened since the opening of the through Southern Pacific route.

—Tucker has the coupola of the Pavilion lighted up every night to remind everybody that roller-skating is in order.

—Mrs. Kate Jones has sufficiently recovered from her bullet wound to be married to Mr. Pile, of the foundry, this evening.

—The April term of the District Court begins on Monday next, April 4. The County Commissioners will be in session on the same day.

—Trout fishing is said to be good in the Truckee just below the dam at Essex. The value of the trout shipped from Verdi in 1878 was $13,000.

—W. N. Knox directs attention to the fact that Dr. Bergman has been appointed medical examiner for the Home Benefit Association, for which Mr. Knox is agent.

—The roller-skating drew many young people to the Pavilion last night. A number of young ladies were on the floor. The sport is just getting popular. Skating every night from 7:30 to 10:30.

—John Johnson has been sentenced to thirty days for stealing a pair of boots from Thos. Barnett's store yesterday. He nearly succeeded in cutting his way out of the caboose with a jack-knife, while awaiting trial.

—A Spaniard came into town yesterday with a big string of chub, caught in Boynton's slough. They averaged only about six inches in length, but were fat and delicious. The chub is as good a fish to eat as swims in Truckee water.

—Duncan McMillan avails himself of that great medium for the dissemination of useful knowledge, the 50-cent ad. column of the GAZETTE, to warn the public against purchasing his note of hand advertised among the assets of the "busted bank."

—Seventy-five Italians have arrived in Reno direct from Italy. They will doubtless be incorporated into the body politic in five years, and help voters of the country. Twenty of the new arrivals have gone to Greenville, Plumas county, to work arastras.

—The illumination of the coupola of the Pavilion every night makes one look forward to the time when the whole town will be illuminated by a big electric light on a lofty tower, as several cities in the East are already lighted in that way, and Ogden is to have an electric tower in use in the course of a month.

Truckee River Lumber Notes.

The year 1881 will be a lively one at Clinton. Mr. Martin is now shipping five cars a day to Arizona and New Mexico. He has orders for ten cars to go to Texas. The railroad is not open yet, but will be in a short time. The mill will have to run day and night for four months to fill the orders. He will cut 13,000,000 feet this summer. The Truckee Lumber Co. has a contract to furnish the railroad with 82,000 heart ties. They say they will cut 20,000,000 in '81.

Oh, What a Cough!

Will you heed the warning. The signal perhaps of the sure approach of that more terrible disease consumption. Ask yourself if you can afford the sake of saving 50 cts., to run the risk and do nothing for it? We know from experience that Shiloh's cure will cure your cough. It never fails. This explains why more than a Million Bottles were sold the past year. It relieves croup, and whooping cough, at once. Mothers do not be without it. For lame back, side, or chest, use Shiloh's Porous Plaster. Sold by Osburn & Shoemaker, drug gists, Reno, Nevada. nov-20-d-8w

THE BURKE BONANZA SUIT.

A Decision Against Flood et al.—They Are Called to Pay Over About $800,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, March 30.

This morning Judge Sullivan of the Superior Court decided one of the numerous suits instituted by Burke against the Bonanza firm. The suit decided is that of Burke vs. Flood, et al. The complaint charged fraudulent conversion of only four feet of mining ground, but the principles involved are very important. The Judge held that resolutions of ratification adopted at the Con. Virginia stockholders' meeting were in effect void, because not adopted by the unanimous consent of the whole body of stockholders. All transactions except one were held to be such that the stockholders might have had notice from the books at the time of their character, or at least sufficient notice to put them upon inquiry. Therefore the statute of limitations was held to have run against all except one transaction, in which Heydenfeldt purchased twelve and one-half feet from Geo. W. Kinney, in the interest of Flood's partner. It did not appear to have been disclosed to the body of stockholders, and the books conveyed no notice to put the stockholders upon inquiry, so that one transaction was held to be exempt from the operation of the statute of limitations. Defendants therefore were required to account for the profits of that transaction. This accounting must be, the Judge said, to the body of the stockholders constituting the corporation. All holders of stock at this date will be allowed sixty days after public notice given by a master appointed by the Court, within which to elect to take benefit of the decree herein and present their evidences of ownership. The Court will provide in its decree that all parties failing to come in within that time shall be foreclosed of all claim against the defendants or either of them, arising out of the transactions considered herein. On payment of the several amounts that may be determined to be due to parties electing to take the benefit of decree herein, defendants will be released from all claim against them arising on the part of said corporation or its stockholders.

The one hundred and twenty and one-half shares of stock issued on this transaction, became equivalent, by reason of several increases in the capital stock of the defendant's corporation and dividends of California stock, issued to stockholders of the defendant's corporation, to six thousand, one hundred and twenty-five shares of stock of the corporation of defendant; and three thousand, five hundred and seventy-three shares of the California Mining Co. Defendants other than the corporation are to account for said shares of stock or their value at this date, and for all dividends paid on said shares of stock, as shown by evidence on the trial, together with interest on such dividends from dates of payment. Defendants are to be credited with three thousand, five hundred and thirty-nine dollars, actually paid for ground, with interest thereon from April 12, 1872.

It is estimated that the amount of money which Flood et al. will be called upon to pay over, should they conclude not to appeal, will be between eight and nine hundred thousand dollars. The decision will have important bearing on other suits now pending, involving several million dollars. The news of the decision had no marked effect on the prices of stocks.

The new basket lunch system on the Boston and Albany Railroad grows in favor. Orders are taken by an agent on each train, and telegraphed for- ward to the station where the baskets are delivered. There are six bills of fare, and the uniform price is 40 cents. One bill, for example, comprises two turkey sandwiches, two slices of but- tered bread, two boiled eggs, and some pickles. The baskets have neat com- partments, and are furnished with knives, forks, and napkins. Extras in the way of fruit, drinks, etc., can be ordered at reasonable prices.

Emil Francois married a quadroon woman in Texas, where intermarriage between whites and those possessing any negro blood is a penal offense. He was convicted and sent to prison for five years. The convict received much sympathy, for his wife was nearly white, and his love for her was quite sincere. The case was carried to the Texas Court of Appeals, which now declares the law under which Francois was convicted to be in conflict with the Fourteenth Amendment and there- fore inoperative. Two years of the imprisonment, however, have already been served.
